PROJECTS

Event Management System

The Event Management System is a website built with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Node.js, and Postgres. It helps users sign up, log in, and share event details. With features like secure authentication and easy event registration, it offers a smooth experience for managing and attending events

Service Prism

Service Prism is a user-friendly web app that helps find local services like restaurants and hospitals etc . Built with Express.js, Firebase, and bcrypt, it allows users to search, register, and contribute service information.

Fast Food Ordering

Online Fast Food Ordering is a user-friendly website designed for easy food ordering. It ensures simplicity, security with bcrypt, and data storage via Firebase. With Express.js, it gives users a smooth experience.

Amazon Clone

I developed a complete Amazon clone using HTML and CSS, replicating the user interface and design of the well-known e-commerce platform. This project highlights my skills in front-end web development and design principles.
